

With Republican firewall, Senate acquits Trump

RICHARD COWAN, DAVID MORGAN & MAKINI BRICE
Washington, February 13

THE US SENATE acquitted Donald Trump on Saturday of inciting the mob that stormed the Capitol last month, sparing him from conviction in his second impeachment trial in a year, despite broad condemnation of his role in sparking the deadly siege.

The Senate voted 57-43 in favour of convicting the former president, falling short of the two-thirds majority needed to do so, on a charge that he incited the insurrection that left five people dead, forced lawmakers to flee, and put his own vice president in danger while overseeing the certification of Democrat Joe Biden's election win.

Senate Republican Leader Mitch McConnell, who voted "not guilty" in the trial, offered scathing remarks about Trump after the verdict. "There is no question that President Trump is practically and morally responsible for provoking the events of the day," he said. "The people who stormed this building believed they were acting on the wishes and instructions of their president."

President Joe Biden said that while the vote did not lead to a conviction, the substance of the charge was not in dispute, and a record number of Republicans had voted to convict Trump. "This said chapter in our history has reminded us that democracy is fragile," Biden said in a statement.

In the vote, seven of the 50 Senate Republicans joined the chamber's unified Democrats in favouring conviction after a week-long trial in the same building ransacked by Trump's followers after they heard him deliver an incendiary speech on January 6.

During the trial, senators viewed graphic video of the assault, including scenes of a police officer screaming in pain as he was crushed in a door, the mob chanting "hang Mike Pence" as it hunted the vice president, and lawmakers having near-misses with rioters as security officers hurried the elected officials into hiding for their own safety.

Trump left office on January 20, so impeachment could not be used to remove him from power. But Democrats had hoped to secure a conviction to hold him responsible for the siege and set the stage for a vote to bar him from serving in public office again.

"The bottom line is that we convinced a big majority in the Senate of our case," said Representative Jamie Raskin, the lead Democratic prosecutor from the House of Representatives. House Speaker Nancy Pelosi said Republicans' refusal to hold Trump accountable would be remembered "as one of the darkest days and most dishonourable acts in our nation's history."

The swift end to the trial allows Biden to move forward with his agenda to bolster the economy with a $1.9-trillion pandemic relief bill and further confirmation of his cabinet members. But divisions on Capitol Hill and around the country over his controversial predecessor will remain. "This has been yet another phase of the greatest

2 killed, 2 hurt in NYC subway stabbing

AN UNIDENTIFIED MAN could be responsible for four separate stabbings that occurred within a few hours in the New York City subways, leaving two people dead, authorities said.

The assaults happened between Friday morning and early Saturday, New York Police Department officials said during a news conference. Authorities believe all four victims were homeless.

Police said they were searching for a man they suspect could be behind all the attacks. They were reviewing security camera footage. All four stabbings occurred along the A subway line. — AP

Democracy is fragile, says Biden

REUTERS
Washington, February 13

US PRESIDENT JOE Biden said on Saturday that the Senate's acquittal of former President Donald Trump for inciting an insurrection was a reminder that democracy was fragile, and every American had a duty to defend the truth.

"This said chapter in our history has reminded us that democracy is fragile," President Biden said in a statement issued hours after the Senate failed to muster the two-thirds majority needed to convict Trump.

"That it must always be defended. That we must be ever vigilant. That violence and extremism has no place in America. And that each of us has a duty and responsibility as Americans, and especially as leaders, to defend the truth and to defeat the lies," he said.

Biden noted that 57 senators — including a record seven Republicans — voted to find Trump guilty, following a bipartisan vote by the House of Representatives to impeach the former president.

"While the final vote did not lead to a conviction, the substance of the charge is not in dispute. Even those opposed to the conviction, like Senate Minority Leader (Mitch) McConnell, believe Donald Trump was guilty of a 'disgraceful dereliction of duty' and 'practically and morally responsible for provoking' the violence unleashed on the Capitol," Biden said.

He said he was thinking about Capitol Police officer Brian Sicknick, who was killed during the siege of the Capitol on January 6, others who bravely stood guard, and those who lost their lives.

He said the task at hand was to end what he called "an uncivil war and heal the very foundations of our republic."
